Dear College Works Painting,

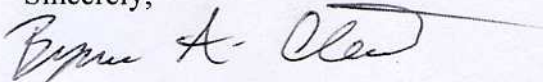

I am writing this letter as a testimonial to express my gratitude and thank College Works Painting for providing me with the opportunity to participate in the internship program. I participated in the program during the year of 2005-2006 as a Branch Operator. From this experience I feel that I have come out as a better prepared individual to head out into the business world.

College Works presented me with the rare opportunity to operate my own painting business, which to me was unheard of. During this process I was given proper training on marketing strategies and management techniques, which are skills I will be able to carry on into the future when I begin my career. Although the training was great, I feel that the overall experience is the greatest thing I took away from the internship. The amount of responsibilities and challenges College Works allowed me to take on played an integral part in my growth as an individual. I was constantly being challenged by my managers to strive for improvement and to turn my weaknesses into my strengths. I learned to value relationships and to hold myself accountable to other people such as my clients, employees, and fellow interns, which is a factor I believe is missing in many businesses today.

Currently I am finishing up my senior year at UC Santa Barbara and preparing for graduation in spring 2008. I am excited to do so because I already have secured a full-time position to begin working for KPMG as an audit associate in fall 2008. Through the hiring process of KPMG, my College Works experiences were frequently asked about and proved to be an impressive achievement. The interviewers were delighted that the many situations I had encountered in College Works would be similar to those I would encounter in the full-time position I was applying for.

In closing I would like to thank again College Works Painting for the opportunity granted to me through the internship. The experience was truly one of a kind and allowed me to learn so much about myself. College Works provided a jump start to me for the path of success and has greatly assisted in realizing my career goals.

Sincerely,
