My experiences with College Works Painting has helped define what I, an aspiring college student, see as my future. Through College Works Painting I grew as a person, a professional, and as a student. I saw that there are two tracks in life that a college student such as myself can take. I can either a) sit back, cruise through classes, maybe find a sub-par internship in my field, and hope that I find a good job come graduation, or b) set a professional standard for myself now, learn what it takes to survive today's business world (while still in college), and secure a future by gaining contacts, developing my communication skills, and learning that I can achieve my goals. I was very successful this past year in College Works Painting, due to the training and endless support by my upper-management. I could have never gone out by myself, marketed, contracted, and produced a $90,000 company if it had not been for the support and experience of my upper managers. It is College Works Painting that helped me define what I want to do with my life, and what I can do with my future, and I would recommend the program to anyone looking to jump-start their life and succeed.
