To Whom It May Concern:

A few months ago, my husband and I came to the conclusion that our house was going to need a paint job. We had recently moved into the neighborhood and came from a home that had vinyl siding. We never had worries about "paint jobs". College Works however came to our rescue. Just days after deciding that we were going to paint this summer, we received an informational flyer on our door from College Works. With just a phone call we were in contact with Kat Moore, who did an excellent job discussing the painting procedures and guarantees. She was thorough in explaining what prep work was to be done prior to painting and the steps to follow. Convinced that we were dealing with professionals we requested a quote. Amazingly, the quote was given to us during our initial meeting and consultation with Kat Moore! Pleased with the affordability of having pros sand, prime and paint our home, we scheduled our house for a make-over!

The prep and painting team of two, Evan Happel and Matt Harrayt did outstanding work. With Kat's management skills, Evan's experience and Matt's hard-work and dedication, the painting process went smoothly! Though Matt was a novice painter, he was professional and did excellent work under the guidance of Evan, a more seasoned painter. The boys worked extremely hard, were dedicated and took pride in their duties. We were truly impressed with how meticulous the team was! We could have never asked for a more pleasing and friendly experience.

Sincerely,
