

To whom it may concern,

My experience as a College Works Painting intern positively changed my life. Through the program I learned an abundance of essential business skills not taught in the typical classroom. I learned how to efficiently manage my time enabling to balance the challenges of school, student involvement, and running my own business. I gained valuable experience in making sales and redefined my definition of customer service.

As a result of my college works experience the most valuable trait I gained was confidence. Today I know I have the skill set to successfully manage any situation that may arise in my life today. I thank College Works Painting for improving both my character and my ability to succeed in the modern competitive world.
