

To whom it may concern,

Once beginning my internship with College Works Painting, I knew this was going to be an experience different than any other. I have never experienced so much growth and development in such a short period of time. I became my own boss and ran my own business, something many people don't get a taste of until much later in life. I learned many of the skills necessary to succeed in business as well as in my own life. Even with the freedom that College Works Painting allows, I learned that to be successful, discipline, establishing values, and creating rules is vital. The challenges I was able to overcome in the internship give me 100% confidence that I will be able to tackle challenges I may encounter in the future

In such a competitive world, the experiences we gain now help us prepare for a successful future. For me, College Works Painting was the experience I needed to put me place for the future I want to have. I feel confident that regardless of your major or desired career path, this internship will help you grow and develop in more areas than you could possibly realize.

Christina Oloroso
Business Management
SDSU – Junior
773-968-4467