

February 23, 2007

To Whom It May Concern:

I am proud to say that I completed the College Works Painting internship; this internship is one that will take you out of your comfort zone and will take your entrepreneurial skills to the next level. College Works Painting offers a superior opportunity to get hands on in business, and teaches the key skills of business. You get to learn marketing, sales, and accounting hands on in this internship will controlling the future success of your branch of the company. While in the internship you will learn business skills and life skills that would otherwise take years to obtain. This is a great opportunity for anyone that gets selected. I highly recommend this internship.

Sincerely
David Rouse